WILL EXHIBIT AERO

Christman to Show Machine It

William Whitney Christmas, the Washington physician and inventor of an automatic balancing aeroplane, in in automatic balancing scroplane, is in w York to complete arrangements for exhibition of his machine at the rosentical exhibition in the Grand niral Palace neat week. It machine the allowed the motor may stop sud-nly in middle, or the operator failed ay, the machine will silently and tily circle down to the earth like a co of paper. He says that it has un-mone tests at the military field in zyland, where it did all its inventor it would.

Maryland, where it die no is a said it would.

"I intend to sakibit a machine capable of carrying three persons," said Dr. Christmas. "It is mersly a baby' machine compared with the one I am now building, which will be capable of carrying several thousand poinds."

The Wright and Curtis machines, Dr. Christmas explained, were of the parallel truss style and were able to carry only a limited weight. His machine, he said, was of the cantilever truss make, ond can be built to almost any propertion.

The balance of my machine can never go wrong," said Dr. Christmas, "for the simple reason that my automath hal-anning device is a part of the machine treet."
